Daily Bulletin

Printed in neither Sect nor Party,
But established for the benefit of all.

MONDAY, JUNE 27, 1892.

Hon. Paul Neumann desires a statement that appeared in Saturday's legislative report corrected, namely, that he gave notice of a bill to license the fa lotteries. We sincerely regret the mistake and apologize to the honorable Noble for its occurrence, which was due to a pure accident in this office and not to misreporting. The compositor omitted part of two paragraphs, jumping from Noble Neumann's name to the set of Rep. Aki. The paragraphs corrected read as follows:

"Noble Neumann gave notice of a bill to license the manufacturing of wine."

"Rep. Aki gave notice of a bill to authorize the Minister of the Interior to license the game of che fa."

WICKED WASTE.

When the Legislature decided to have all bills printed on their introduction, it made it possible for the public money to be wasted in putting such a conglomeration of words as the following in cold print. The selection is made at random from Mr. White's bill to license gambling, being one paragraph of the fourth section:

The right words on said ticket shall be cut separately by itself then it be folded so as not to expose said word, then it shall be placed in a container or some other object of same nature, then it shall be mixed together, then from hence it shall be separately placed into four different bowls or some other container at twenty words in each bowl or container, and the person performing such duty shall not look or observe any of those words folded, and then take one of the said four bowls and the twenty words contained in that bowl will be the gainer of said bank, and such words will be the comparison with those words dotted or impressed on those tickets sold to any person, and which were entered in the bank before the assorted words were issued.

The cost of printing the bill from which this English stew is taken is something like thirty dollars. Adding the time wasted before the thing is killed, Mr. White's tomfoolery, in this instance alone, will have cost the country a large round sum. The respectable members of the House must have been asleep when they allowed anything more than the title of this bill to have ever been heard or read. Mr. Aki has another bill, also printed, for the licensing of "a house in which to carry on gambling of all kinds." Its English is not such an insult to the educational reputation of the country, but it is a shame nevertheless that it should have been dignified by printing.

THE POSTAL SERVICE.

The revenue of the Hawaiian Postal Bureau from all sources for the biennial period ending March 31, 1892, was $119,081.41, and the total expenditure was $99,001.24, leaving as net income to the Government the snug sum of $20,080.17. When it is remembered that the postal service is a public necessity, intended in nowise as a means of taxing the people like the customs service, the fact of a respectable surplus in the bureau is highly gratifying.

The Postmaster-General reports a large increase in revenue from every source in the postal department proper, the sale of stamps alone exceeding that of the previous period by $12,910.89. From the money order branch the gross revenue was $12,862.99, against $9,202.09 for the previous period—an increase of $3,660.90. Parcels post revenue increased by $498.43. "A falling off is apparent in the revenue from the Savings Bank, which is due to Section 2, Chapter XI. of the Session Laws of 1890, discontinuing the payment of one percent by the Treasury to this Bureau in addition to the actual interest paid to depositors, which took effect on December 31, 1890."

The Postmaster-General reports an undesirable practice, at present beyond his control, being the large postal traffic done outside of the bureau. A careful estimate prepared from statistics furnished by the island offices gives the approximate total of 300,000 letters and papers circulating in the overland mails which do not pass through the General Post Office in transit. "In addition to these, a large amount of correspondence"—estimated at 100,000 letters, etc., from Honolulu alone—"is forwarded outside the mails, being either handed to the pursers of steamers or put on board during their absence, thus not only causing great annoyance to the steamship companies, but also involving considerable risk of loss or delay in delivery." It might be a wise measure for abating this practice, to tax all mail matter not posted in a post office fifty or a hundred percent of extra postage.

Fifteen new post offices were opened in the period. On the island of Hawaii, 4; on Maui, 6; on Molokai, 1; on Oahu, 3, and on Kauai, 1. One office was discontinued, at Kalahele, Hawaii. Sixty-eight was the total number of offices in operation at the close of the period. To the offices previously doing money order business ten others were added—Makaweli, Kekaha, Honuliuli, Kahuku, Heeia, Huelo, Hanalei, Kipahulu, Kamao and Naalehu, making a total of forty money order offices on March 31, 1892. The reduction of rates of postage to foreign countries and colonies in January last, in conformity with Article V. of the Universal Postal Union Convention, has made no appreciable diminution in revenue from stamp sales to the close of the period. The number of money orders issued was 47,831, the aggregate value being $1,587,659.76. Orders paid, 40,402; aggregate value, $1,482,528.60. Fees collected, $12,770.47. Commissions paid to foreign countries, $769.39. Commissions received from foreign countries, $92.52. Premiums paid on exchange remitted to foreign countries in settlement of balances, $918.05. The money order capital of $5,011.32 at the beginning of the period was found to be insufficient to carry on the increasing business of that branch. The appropriation of $7,000, made by the Legislature of 1890, was therefore drawn and is now retained as a capital fund to meet payments on money orders, prior to receipt of remittances. Should the anticipated further extension of business be realized an additional appropriation of $5,000 will be required.

The reference to the Postal Savings Bank in the report may be left for another article, as it will require considerable space to give adequate information regarding this branch. In concluding his report Postmaster-General Hill makes the following submission in respect to accommodation: "It is here respectfully submitted that the work of the General Post Office has entirely outgrown the facilities furnished for its performance. Accommodation is altogether inadequate to present requirements. Sufficiency of space is lacking for prompt delivery, assorting and despatch of mails. The Registry correspondence and Parcels Post packages have of necessity to be handled at great inconvenience and loss of time on the second floor, to furnish room for the Postal Savings Bank and Money Order Department, which last are also greatly inconvenienced for want of proper space. I would respectfully suggest the occupation of the adjoining premises, which are Government property, and their appropriation to the use of this Bureau. The whole of the ground floor of the General Post office is not more than sufficient to supply the room required for use of the mail department alone. More post office boxes are needed to satisfy the demand, and a consequent loss of revenue is sustained."

BENEFIT CONCERT.

Local Talent Draws a Large Patronage in Aid of the Kawaihahoe School.

The benefit concert at Kawaihahoe Church to the Kawaihahoe School Saturday night was largely attended, the sacred edifice being filled in every part. Her Majesty the Queen, attended by Governor A. S. Cleghorn, Major J. W. Robertson, and Messrs. Wilson and Clark, was present, besides other notable people. Around the edge of the platform was an embankment of sweet-smelling flowers.

The entertainment opened with an organ solo by Mr. P. M. English, followed with a duet by the Misses Dowsett and Atkinson, sung in a pleasing manner.

The "Blue Bells of Scotland" was sung by a boys' choir, the voice of one of the ringers above the others. Miss Glade in "Spring Song" was applauded. This lady has a soft, sweet voice. Miss Dale's appearance was heralded by applause. She sang "Whither" so well that she was cheered and gave "Comin' thro' the Rye" and "Annie Laurie." She was the recipient of bouquets. The Punahele Glee Club rendered "Fairy Moonlight" nicely and was cheered. Mrs. W. G. Irwin sang the difficult piece, "Ave Maria," in a sweet clear soprano, for which she received applause and a bouquet. A solo by Hon. C. P. Laukae, in a fine tenor, with violin and piano accompaniment by Prince Kahanianole and Mr. English, was applauded.

"Semiramis," although an old chestnut, was given with a vim by the Royal Hawaiian Orchestra. A trio by Mrs. Glade, Mrs. Tenney and Miss Marie von Holt was rendered with musical taste, the beautiful voices ringing out clearly and harmoniously. The most difficult song of the evening, perhaps, was "Judith" by Sullivan, which was artistically rendered by Miss F. Nolte. This talented young lady's voice was in good trim, and her effort added one to many previous triumphs. Miss Howland accompanied Miss Nolte on the piano with delightful effect, her touch being light and whole execution in tasteful subjection to the vocalization.

The Kawaihahoe choir as usual sang nicely. Lieutenant Garrett, in "Tell Her I Love Her So" was applauded for a grand effort, as was also a quartet by Messrs. Hoogs, Hall, Lyman and Nichols. A pleasing number was "Love's Golden Dream" by Mrs. Leihulu Keokakole. This lady was loudly applauded and responded with a native air. An anthem by the St. Andrew's choir closed the evening's entertainment, which was in every way a successful one. The management was perfect and its success is due to the untiring efforts of Miss J. Smith.

A traveling man who chanced to be in the store of E. V. Wood, at McKees Rocks, Pa., says while he was waiting to see Mr. Wood, a little girl came in with an empty bottle labeled Chamberlain's Pain Balm and said: "Mamma wants another bottle of that medicine; she says it is the best medicine for rheumatism she ever used." 50 cent bottles for sale by all dealers.
